

Invitation Letter

Dear Sir/Madam,

The 3rd International Conference on Optical Communication and Optical Information Processing (OCOIP2025) will be held during August 1-3, 2025 in Hefei, China. On behalf of the Organizing Committee, we warmly welcome you to join in OCOIP2025.

OCOIP2025 is organized by the School of Physics, Hefei University of Technology, China, co-organized by the School of Communication and Information Engineering, Shanghai University, China; iPatLab; Anhui Key Laboratory of Optoelectronics Science and Technology, China; School of Physics and Optoelectronic Engineering, Anhui University, China; Anhui Optical Society, China.

OCOIP focuses to present the latest theoretical advances and experimental state of the art in the newly developing field of optical communication and optical information processing, with particular emphasis on applications to communication, information storage and processing. The conference aims to share research results, advance the development of the discipline and promote the cultivation of talents.
